Step 1.

Dice the peppers into small cubes and finely chop the parsley.

Step 2.

Combine all of the ingredients in a bowl (juicing in the lemon) and season with a generous amount of salt and pepper.

Step 3.

'Smoosh' it over toast, pitta bread, a bagel or whatever you fancy. Sprinkle over some sesame seeds and any remaining parsley and enjoy.

Really wanted to like this but it just felt bland and way too acidic. The other smooshes are much nicer.

Really nice except the juice of a whole lemon is way too much. I didn't even add the vinegar. Next time I'll just do half a lemon or the half the vinegar and see how it goes.

This was really tasty! I substituted the mayo for greek yoghurt and added another tbs. It was a little on the acidic side as I used jarred red peppers, so next time I'd decrease the vinegar / lemon to make up for this.
