Recipe:

Squash cremeux

Makes about 3 cups

- 6 oz squash, I used 2 honey nut
- 1 tsp gelatin powder
- 2 Tbsp cold water
- 4 oz heavy cream
- 2 oz whole milk
- 1 tsp vanilla bean paste or extract
- 2 oz granulated sugar
- 5 egg yolks

1. Preheat oven to 350F
2. Roast squash in oven until fork tender. About 25 minutes.
3. Let squash cool to room temperature. Discard seeds and scoop out squash. Set aside.
4. Mix gelatin with water to bloom.
5. In a pot, over medium heat combine half (2oz) of heavy cream, milk, vanilla bean extract and 1 oz of sugar.
6. In a separate mixing bowl, combine yolks, remaining cream, and remaining sugar. Whisk until well combined.

7. Temper yolk mixture by slowly and gradually adding hot cream mixture to mixing bowl. Whisk constantly.
8. Add hot mixture back to pot, stirring vigorously and cook until mixture thickens. Cook until mixture coats the back of the spoon (about 180F). Don't scramble your eggs!!!
9. Add squash, bloomed gelatin and hot egg mixture to blender. Blend on high until smooth.
10. Strain through fine mesh sieve into desired vessel. Cover with plastic wrap directly on mixture and refrigerate for at least 4 hours or until set.
11. Serve with cookies or whatever you'd like!!

Orange shortbread cookies

makes about 8-10 cookies

- zest from 1 orange
- 8 Tbsp unsalted butter
- 1 yolk

- pinch of kosher salt
- 1 cup all purpose flour
- egg wash
- demerara sugar

1. Add sugar and zest to bowl. Massage zest into sugar until combined.
2. Add butter and mix until well combined. (You're not looking to whip air into dough)
3. Mix in yolk and vanilla bean extract until combined.
4. Fold flour and salt into dough. Mix until combined.

5. Roll dough into log using plastic wrap.
6. Cool in fridge for at least 2 hours before baking.
7. Egg wash log and cover with demerara sugar
8. Cut into 1/4 inch discs.
9. Bake cookies at 350F, 15-20 minutes.
10. Finish with flake salt if desired.
11. enjoy!

How many "servings" of the cremeux do you think the 3 cups amounts to?
